Welcome to the Zoo

Hello Zoo keepers!

So far in the project you should have built the main structure of the zoo and designed your animals with their enclosures. Have you named your animals with their own labels? Today it is important that you feed your animals, are they carnivores, herbivores or omnivores? What will eat, can they eat the same food?

1. First can you label who are the carnivores, herbivores and omnivores so you know where they are in the Zoo, it is important as a zoo keeper that you dont mix up their diet.
2. Can you make an item of food out of paper, card, playdough or find some play food that would be suitable for each animal.
3. Extra spicy—you can write a shopping list for your workers so they know what food to buy for each animal. Find an example on the next page..
